Rescued in Laos

HAPPINESS IS arriving safely at Da Nang Afd., Vietnam, after parachuting into an enemy-infested area near Bolovens Plateau in Laos. Forward air controllers Maj. Samuel R. Roff, right, and 1st Lt. Arthur L. Moxon were forced to eject from their OV-10 after it was hit by ground fire while they were directing an air strike against enemy positions. They were rescued by Super Jolly Green Giant chopper crews from the 37th ARRS. Commented Major Roff: "When we heard the Jolly Greens were coming, I was so damned happy I couldn't believe it."
